

Welcome to Wigston Library

The library is on Bull Head Street

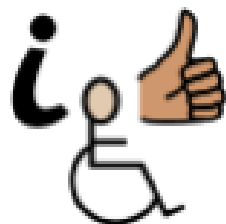

The entrance is on the main road

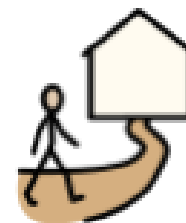

The library is a large well-lit open space

it is wheelchair accessible.

It is free to visit.

There is paid public parking at the back of the library

You get to this from Wakes Road

If you have a Blue Badge,

you can park for free for 3 hours

3

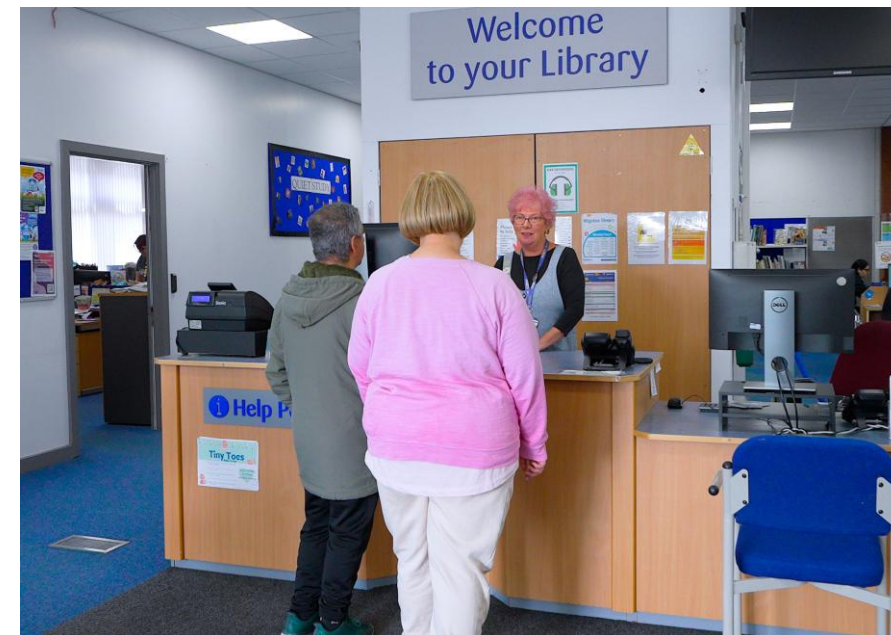

You can use the stairs or the ramp to go to the entrance

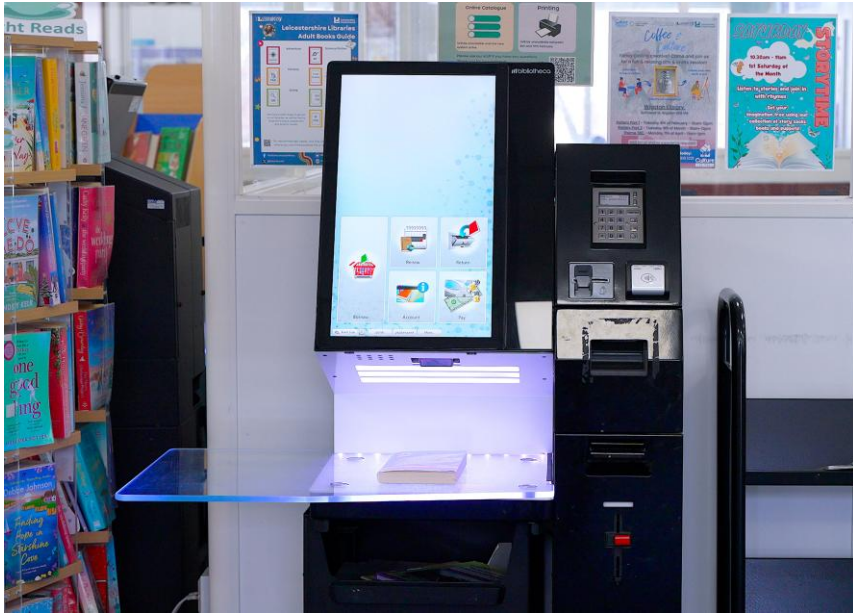

The library staff are friendly and happy to help you.

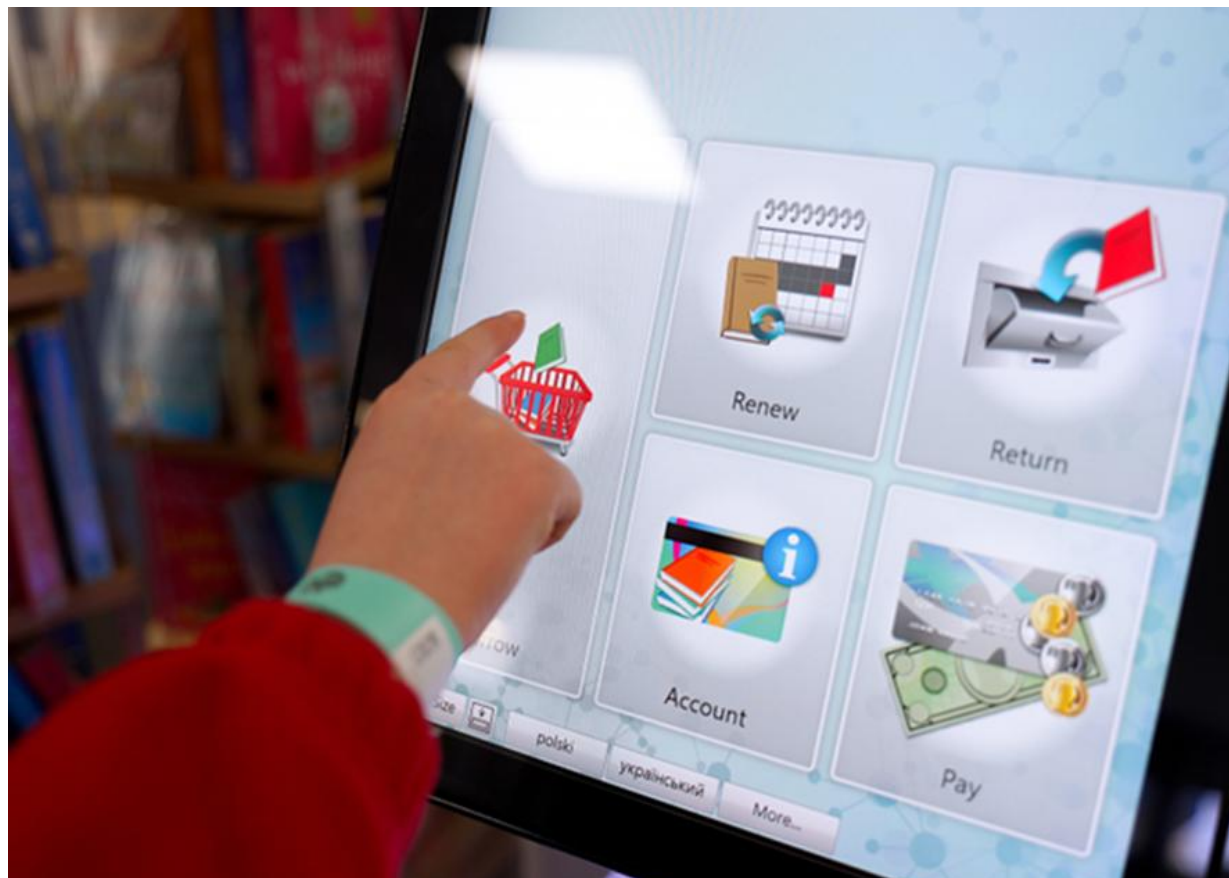

Staff wear ID badges

There are self-service kiosks

This is where you can borrow, renew and return your books

It has buttons on the screen you can press to do this.

Library

staff

can

show you how to use the

self-service kiosks

or they

can

help

you at the

 Point

help-point

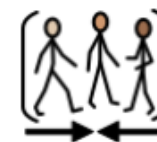

instead

The library has a children's area

It has lots of books

Sometimes events take place here

Our toilets, including a disabled access toilet are downstairs

If you cannot use the stairs there is a lift.

Staff

can

help

you use the

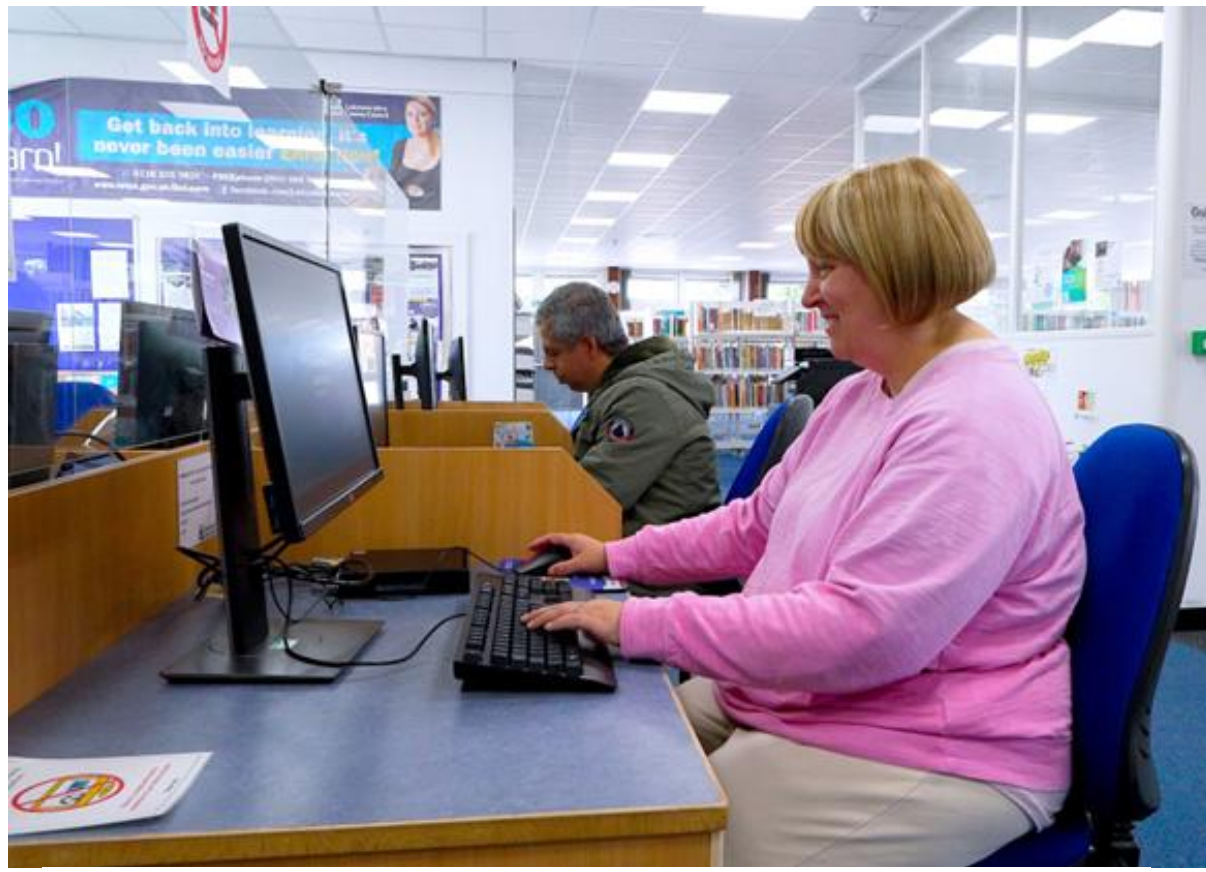

lift

In the main area of the library you can find books for adults and young people

There are lots to choose from and some may be in different formats

Computers

and

Wi-fi

are

free to use

with your

Library Card

and

PIN number

There are

printing

and scanning

facilities

There are chairs and tables.

You can stay as long as you like.

The Library

be

noisy.

You

hear

phones

ringing,

people

talking

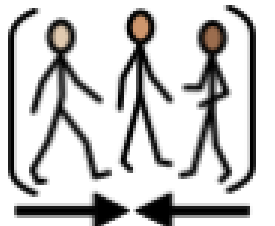

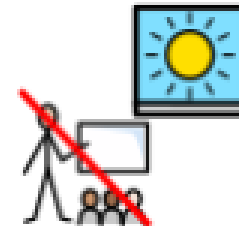

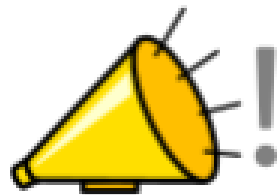

or

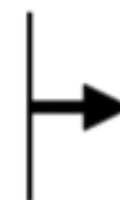

children

playing.

It may be louder during school holidays or events.

If it is too loud, you can borrow ear defenders from the staff.

When it is

time

to go you

can

leave

through the main

door

Which will take

you

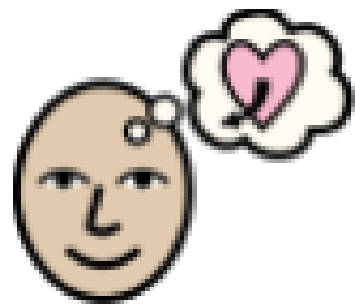

back to

Bull Head

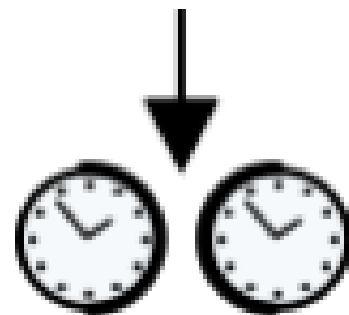

Street

We hope you

visit us

soon
